Additional Costs:

- If a female dog is in heat, there will be an additional fee of $5.00-$10. Please keep in mind that large breed, overweight and older dogs in heat have a higher risk. For this reason, we may turn away a dog after the initial exam if we do not feel they are a good surgical candidate. The in-heat charge does not apply to cats.
- Pregnant dogs and cats will be charged $5.00-$10.00 extra.
- If a male dog or cat is a cryptorchid (testicles have not fully descended), the cost of the procedure will be the cost of the neuter plus up to the full price of a spay for the same size.
- If a pet is found to be spayed after sedation, there will be a $25.00 fee.
- If a female dog or cat is found to be already spayed during surgery, the regular surgery fee will apply (exploratory laparotomy).
- If a pet does not have written proof of a current Rabies vaccine given by a licensed veterinarian, the vaccine will be given the day of surgery at a cost of $8.00.
- Pet's presented for surgery that are not able to have a procedure done (already sterilized, sick, injured) will be assessed a $12 brief pre-operative exam fee.
- Host organizations may have an administration fee added to help with the cost of running the clinic and/or raise funds to help the animals in their care.
HCHS charges a $5 fee per animal.
